“No one should have go through the embarrassing business of asking how much something costs before ordering it.”

“It remains difficult to focus on the food at hand and fully enjoy a meal when you’re stuck wondering how much a round of appetizers is going to cost.”

Claudia McNeilly

Interests

Travelling, arts, history, exploring museums, galleries, and architectural landmarks during her travels. She appreciates fine dining experiences and culinary traditions that reflect the cultural heritage of each destination.

Goals

She plans meticulously curated trips that immerse her in the local culture and gastronomy of her chosen destinations. She seeks dining experiences that showcase the culinary authenticity of regional cuisines without spending a lot of money.

Pain points/Frustrations

She feels frustrated when she cannot create a detailed travel plan or monthly budget because there is no information available. She dislikes feeling unprepared and prefers to have all the necessary details at her fingertips.

Motivations

She is motivated by the pursuit of knowledge through travel experiences. She seeks meaningful connections to the places she visits and believes a great way to do that is through experiencing the local food.

Challenges

One of her challenges is to create meticulous planning that still allows for some flexibility in itineraries, while ensuring she stays within her budget.

Needs & Expectations

- Accurate and updated price information for restaurants
- Get notifications of nearby restaurants and their prices
- See the price in her preferred currency.

Tina Turner

Age: 62

Occupation: Retired

Education: High School

Status: Married

Location: Sao Paulo, Brazil

Interests

Tina loves to cook and experiment with new recipes at home. She always organizes weekend dinners and lunches for her family and is very happy when they all eat together. She also enjoys gardening, reading, and attending the local art fair.

Goals

Her goal is to dine out regularly with her husband and sons, enjoying delicious meals and spending quality time together without worrying about unexpected expenses. She expects better quality for a higher price, as long as there is price transparency.

Pain points/Frustrations

She experiences frustration when dining out with her husband and encountering surprises on the bill. She dislikes feeling caught off guard by hidden charges or unclear pricing structures (service fee, tips etc.).

Motivations

She enjoys dining out with her husband, sons and granddaughters and creating cherished memories together. She appreciates the comfort and familiarity of her favorite restaurants where they can relax and enjoy good food with no surprises on the bill.

Challenges

Finding restaurants that consistently provide transparent pricing and reliable service.

Needs & Expectations

- Simple and clean UI/UX
- Easy to read and find instructions
- Accurate and updated price information for restaurants
- Search for specific dietary options (vegan, gluten-free, etc.) and the price.

Technology

She is comfortable using basic technology for everyday tasks but may not be as proficient in navigating advanced digital platforms. To learn how to use more complicated features, she usually asks her daughter for help.

Personality Traits

Tina is nurturing, pragmatic, and family-oriented. She values stability and reliability in her routines and seeks comfort and familiarity in her dining experiences.

Brands & Influences

Instagram, Facebook, Google, local newspapers, TV shows, and word-of-mouth, especially from her family.
